

This drawing depicts the hands of a medical professional examining the impact of their work as they hold a visual representation of a doctor treating a patient. This piece demonstrates the care entrusted to medical professionals by patients and the humanity that is present in medicine.